Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 10 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Turning milder over the weekend, but still unsettled and windy.

This Evening and Tonight:
Any showers in the west dying out this evening, with winds falling light inland. Coupled with long clear spells, these conditions will help lead to a widespread frost, particularly in rural areas. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Saturday:
Fine, cold and crisp with sunshine during the morning. Gradually clouding over from the west in the afternoon, culminating in a breezy and rather wet evening as milder conditions arrive. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Remaining rather changeable, breezy and unsettled through this period, with some sunny intervals but also showers or longer spells of rain. Milder than of late, but tempered by the wind.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.